Providing you with a truly international reach

Boni Tax is a trade name of Boni Accountants LLP, an international alliance of several accounting firms represented in the UK and Ireland.

Which means that, if required, we can offer you a consistency of service between the UK and China other firms cannot match. It also means we are able to help Chinese businesses expand into Europe.

The fact we are formally aligned means we can guarantee you will always receive a consistently high standard of service worldwide.

Providing you with a dedicated London Desk

We know you will value advice from a team that truly understands you, your business and the situations you face.

Boni' dedicated London Desk provides businesses and individuals from China, Hong Kong and most of the other major Asian business centres with highly specialist compliance, business advisory, taxation and consultancy services.

To help with communication if needed, all members of our China desk are native Mandarin speakers.

More importantly all of our team have experience of both Chinese and UK business cultures so that you receive the best and most commercial advice whatever the circumstances.

The team is headed up by George Liu, FCCA, PhD, an experienced partner in Boni who has successfully delivered tax advice and audit and accounting services to Chinese individuals and their businesses for over 15 years. George has built up a strong working relationship with legal and banking professionals who also specialise in working with Chinese businesses and individuals, should you ever need additional assistance.

Our impressive portfolio of clients is varied and includes UK subsidiaries of major Chinese state owned companies and Chinese owner managed UK companies as well as high net worth individuals from China.

What can we do for you as a Chinese individual?

We can assist you with compliance and advisory aspects of your personal tax.

Our compliance services include the completion and filing of tax returns, making sure you pay only what tax is due in the UK.

Our advisory services include personal tax planning (both on a UK or an international basis) so you are as tax efficient as possible, regardless of how you split your time between the UK and overseas. This also includes advising on the tax implications of non-dom status and ownership of UK assets as a non-dom.

We can also offer you tax planning advice before you come to the UK. Working together before you arrive means you arrive in the UK with your affairs already structured in the most tax efficient way.

From there we will continue to support you by advising you on the most efficient investment and tax strategies.

“The best professional support”

We also offer additional tax advisory services including:

- Optimisation of tax reliefs, share schemes, exemptions and inter-spouse transfers
- Tax strategy
- Business Asset Relief (formerly Entrepreneurs Relief)
- Tax implications of non-dom status
- Capital Gains on property or asset sales
- Property rental income and reliefs
- Inheritance Tax Planning
- Trusts, Estates and Executorships

What can we do for you as the owner of a Chinese business?

We will support you to make sure that setting up and running your business in the UK is as easy as possible.

We will start by advising you on the most suitable entity for your business in the UK, set it up for you and ensure that it is structured in the right way.

We can provide you with the strategic corporate tax advice (both within the UK and overseas) your business will need to keep it tax efficient.

We can also provide the VAT assistance, business advice and audit and accountancy services you will need to ensure your UK company stays compliant with UK and international rules, regulations and accounting standards.

One particular service that we provide which you will find beneficial, is management reporting to your parent company in Chinese.

Depending where you are in the business cycle, we can also offer more specialist services from acting as your registered office through to providing support services including payroll, human resources advice, pension obligations and management reporting.

If you are looking to raise finance for a new venture, to buy or sell an existing business or would like to undertake due diligence ahead of a sale or purchase, Boni Tax Ltd have the Corporate Finance experience you will need to successfully complete your project.

“I am very glad to have such a responsible accountancy firm like Boni Tax Ltd to assist us in the UK”
